NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

THIRD DAY.

WEDNESDAY, May 24, 1848. It will be recollected by the reader that on vesterday evening it was determined by the Convention to hear both the New York delegations at the bar of the Convention; each delegation to be heard through two speakers, and each speaker to occupy only one hour .-Accordingly the "Old Hunkers" and the sire to vote. " Barn-burners" occupied a large portion of the morning's session, the champions of each delegation insisting that it alone represented the Democracy of the State of New York.

Mr. Yancy, of Alabama, then addressed the Convention, urging the admission of the "Old Hunkers" as the legitimate delegates from New York. At the conclusion of Mr. Yancy's speech, great excitement prevailed, which was happily put down by the calmness and influence of the President. The Convention then adjourned to 5 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The afternoon session was principally ta ken up in discussing and disposing of the New York contested delegation case. Several resolutions were introduced on the the present Secretary of the Navy. subject; one declaring the Syracuse or "Old Hunker* delegation entitled to seats in the Convention; another declaring that the Convention declined to decide between the two sets of delegates, and referred the whole matter back to the people of New York. We notice that Judge Strange advocated the admission of the "Old Hunkers."

A resolution was then proposed to admit both sets of the New York delegates, but re- following was the result: stricting them to the number of votes which the State is entitled to in the Electoral College.

it was sustained by a vote of 201 ayes to 56

The question was then taken by States on to 125 in the negative:

Ayes-Maine 9, New Hampshire 5, Massachusetts 11, Vermont 5, Rhode Island 2, Mason, 5. Connecticut 6, New Jersey 7, Pennsylvania 19. Delaware 1, Maryland 2, Texas 4, Tennessee 9, Kentucky 10, Ohio 14, Indiana 7, Illinois 9, lowa 4, Missouri 1 —126.

NAYS-Massachusetts 1, Vermont 1, Rhode tion Island 2, Pennsylvania 7, Delaware 2, Maryland 5, Virginia 17, North Carolina 11, South Carolina 9, Georgia 10, Florida 3, Alabama 9, Mississippi 6, Louisiana 6, Arkansas 3, Tennessee 4, Kentucky 2, Ohio 9, Indiana 5, Michigan 5, Missouri 4, Wisconsin 4.-125.

So both sets of delegates are admitted to seats in the Convention.

The Convention then adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

4th Day's Proceedings-Thursday, May 25. Our limits will not permit us to give more than a general outline of this day's proceedings.

Convention met at 9 o'clock, A. M., when the sense of the Convention was again and finally taken upon the New York case. The Convention, by a vote of 133 against 118, finally determined to admit both sets of delegates from the State of New York. The " Barnburners," however withdrew from the Convention, and the "old Hunkers" would not vote; so that New York took no part in the various ballotings for President and Vice

A letter was read from Mr. Polk, by Dr. Ramsey, of Tennessee, to the Convention, stating that he did not wish his name to be brought before the Convention—that he (Mr. Polk) reiterated the declaration made in his letter of acceptance four years ago, that he would not be a candidate for re-election, &c.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot

The delegates from these States expressed their pleasure at the nomination as individuals, but as they were there under instructions, they would wait until they saw and understood the platform of principles that the Convention would adopt.

Gen. Lewis Cass of Michigan was unanimously sustained by the delegates of the several States, with the exception of New York, which did not vote at all, and Alabama and Florida, who permitted their vote to stand as on the final ballot; that was, Florida for Woodbury, and Alabama 5 for Cass and 4 for

A resolution was then proposed that no State should henceforth send more delegates to the National Convention than she is entitled to votes in the Electoral College, which was laid on the table by a vote of 163 to 90. Mr. Cone, of Georgia, from the Committee on Resolutions, here stated that the Committee were now ready to report, and the resolutions reported were read by Mr. Hallett, of Boston, as follows :--
